This screenshot shows a Windows Internet Explorer window with a blue title bar and a white content area. The title bar says 'Search details - Windows Internet Explorer'. Below it is a URL bar with the address 'https://sjobs.brassring.com/1033/ASP/TG/cim_popcriteria.asp?SID=^oX_slp_rhc_APBPPBd'. The main content area has a light blue header bar with the text 'Search criteria' and a question mark icon followed by 'Help'. Below this is a section titled 'Your search criteria' containing a large amount of text in black font. The text is a search query for job locations in Texas, including Addison, Arlington, Austin, Corpus Christi, Dallas, Houston, Irving, Lackland, Plano, Port Neches, Richardson, San Antonio, Southlake, and The Woodlands. It also specifies English as the language and the United States as the country. At the bottom left of the content area is a grey button labeled 'Close window'. At the very bottom of the window is a toolbar with icons for back, forward, and search, along with a status bar showing 'Done' and 'Internet'.
